

IMPLEMENTING PARTNERS FACTSHEET

Gender-Based Violence Workstream

Project Brief

The project supports women affected by gender-based violence (GBV) including women from minority groups and women with disabilities to have access to quality health care, legal protection, and other coordinated social services.

Project Outcomes

- GBV Working Group, Provincial Women and Children Consultative Committee (PWCCC) and subgroup of the District Women's and Children Consultative Committee (DWCCC) in Ratanakiri are able to better coordinate, report and monitor implementation of GBV prevention and response programs in their province, including for women from minority groups and women with disabilities.
- Health service providers in Ratanakiri province provide sensitive, inclusive and (culturally) appropriate medical care, and strengthen coordination of support through referral to services for diverse women who experience violence, including women with disabilities.
- Subnational authorities respond to the needs of women experiencing violence in a timely, sensitive, inclusive and non-discriminatory way, including GBV prevention strategies, plans and initiatives.

Key Interventions

- Training and coaching on the National Guidelines for Managing Violence Against Women in the Health System to provincial health departments (PHDs), operational districts (ODs), referral hospitals and health centres.
- Attitude training to health service providers.
- Training on sexual harassment (SH), and social analysis and action (SAA) to the PHDs, ODs, referral hospitals teams, GBV Working Group and service providers (police, District Women and Children Consultative Committee).
- Support the establishment of GBV Working Groups and capacity building of members.
- Training and coaching on Minimum Standards of Basic Counselling and Referral Guidelines, SH, SAA, attitude training and GBV data management system and reporting to GBV Working Group and district duty-bearers.
- Training on Standard Operating Procedures and GBV Referral Guidelines to commune councils.
- Training and coaching on Minimum Standards of Basic Counselling Referral Guidelines, SH, and SAA to CCWC and commune councils.
- Community scorecard to monitor the accountability of services providers
